SUM Kim Lung & Co. have risen from the ashes, and are temporarily carrying on their business in the third house below Smith's bridge.

NEW flooring is being laid in the Old Corner, and the building is being repaired generally. It will probably be occupied by Wing Wo Tai & Co. in a few days.

OVER 2,000 people were in the Beaver Saloon Sunday night, during the fire, and in consequence Nolte gave his customers chicken-curry today for lunch.

THE Ookala Sugar Company has elected officers for the ensuing year, as follows: Hon. W. L. Green, President; Mr. Alex. McKibbin, Treasurer; Capt. H. W. Mist, Secretary.

A THREE-MASTED schooner was off Coco Head at 2:30 P.M., but not a word of the S. S. Mararoa. A belief that the latter has skipped past for the Colonies is gaining ground.

By order of Hon. W. F. Allen, E. P. Adams & Co. will sell all the furniture at the house lately occupied by Mrs. McBryde, corner of School and Emma streets, at 10 to-morrow.

THERE is talk of the Sailors' Home being taken down, and the land on which it stands used as a public square. The trustees of the home will meet at an early date, and may probably take the matter of relinquishing their lease into consideration.

LEWERS & Cooke, timber merchants, publicly announce that they will not take advantage of people's necessities, and raise the price of building material; but will sell at former prices, notwithstanding increased demand for everything in their line.

MEMBERS and adherents of the Bethel Union Church are reminded of the important business meeting to be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall at 7:30 this evening. After the meeting the ladies will remain a few minutes to hear the report of the committee in charge of the recent public lunches.

An arrangement has been made between the Government and the owners of the new structures going up in the burnt district, whereby the buildings are to be replaced within a reasonable period by erections in conformity with the new regulations. The buildings are being put up by Mr. James Olds (on the site of the Empire Saloon) and Mr. John F. Colburn (on his lot on King street).

The efficient services of Engine Co. No. 4, under the supervision of Second Assistant J. Asche, at the fire Sunday afternoon and night, deserves favorable comment and praise. The company had 1,500 feet of hose out, running from the corner of Beretania and Nuuanu streets, and saved property from that corner to the stream near the Chinese laundry. Furthermore, not a man in the company was intoxicated.

YESTERDAY the Supreme Court in banco dismissed the following appeals, on the ground that the statute of 1884 did not allow appeals to come direct from the Circuit Judge to the Supreme Court: Pualani, appellant, vs. Nakaleka, appeal from Fornander, Circuit Judge; Board of Immigration, appellant, vs. Sousa, appeal from Hart, Circuit Judge; Kahananui, appellant, vs. Kapule, appeal from Fornander, Circuit Judge.

A CURIOUS incident of Sunday night has just been heard of. Some reckless persons entered the store of Quong On Kee & Co., Nuuanu street, opposite Freeth & Peacock's, on the night above mentioned, and with axes cut off the combination knob of their safe, which of course prevented the opening of it even by those who knew the combination. The depredators were evidently bent upon getting money, but were baffled by their ignorance of the structure and mechanism of the safe.

DURING yesterday and to-day Mr. R. More has been busily employed in opening safes that had passed the ordeal of Sunday's fire, principally McNeil & Urban's, for which C. O. Berger is agent. Some of these safes had been exposed to great heat and were badly damaged on the outside, but in every case the contents were in a state of complete preservation. Several of Hall's Safes, for which Geo. Engelhardt is agent, were also opened, some by the combination. Their contents were in good condition. One from the store of Quong Ing Sing & Co., corner of Hotel and Nuuanu streets, had a license certificate pasted inside the door unimpaired. Papers in the drawers were not even scorched.

ANOTHER FIRE ROBBERY.

The movables belonging to the Sailors' Home were carried out on Sunday evening, and deposited in front of the Post Office. Mr. Laing, manager of the establishment, reports a large lot of new towels and bed linen missing. The most of the bed linen was marked "Dunscomb," and towels and pillow cases marked "Laing." After the alarm was over, it was further discovered that the baggage room had been broken open, and the contents of trunks scattered about. Three boxes of fowls were also taken, some of them being Spanish, and of extra value.

THE IVY HOLMES.

The steamer Ivy Holmes arrived last night from Hilo, via Mahukona, with a broken roller of Wainaku mill, to be repaired at the Foundry. The Holmes is commanded by Captain Cooke, the "old pirate," as he terms himself, and he makes the report given below:—

The Wainaku mill broke down last Monday morning, at 10 o'clock, and in consequence has suspended operations until the return of the roller. The weather is fearfully rough at Hilo and all along that coast. The schooner Canute, after being towed to sea from her dangerous position between Paukaa and Papaikou, on Wednesday of last week, was anchored at the latter place when the Ivy Holmes left, and is encountering very rough weather. The Holmes was twelve hours from Hilo to Mahukona, where she put in on account of the roughness of the sea and the strong winds then blowing. She left Mahukona at 3 o'clock Monday morning for this port, and when four hours out, while the vessel was being unmercifully tossed by the huge billows, the piston rod and a cylinder broke. She was put under sail for the remaining distance and Captain Cooke says he thought at times the vessel would founder. The steamer brought, besides the roller above mentioned, 180 bags of sugar for Hackfeld & Co. She is docked at the fish market, and after repairs to her machinery will return to Hilo.

HONOLULU RIFLES.

The Honolulu Rifles will assemble at the Armory at 7:30 o'clock this evening, for a full dress inspection. After which they will march to the Shooting Gallery, Fort street, and in file order will shoot five shots each at the target. They will use their regular Springfield rifles, with six grains of powder and a ball prepared by Mr. Nicoll. An iron target will be shot at, behind which is a seven-inch bulkhead to stop the bullets, if the target should be missed. The company has already procured two medals, one gold and the other silver, to be offered as prizes for the best marksmanship at target shooting, during the encampment on the 11th of June. The professional shots of the Rifles, Unger, Higgins and others, will not compete for the medals, thereby giving the junior marksmen a chance. These medals, after being scrutinized and admired by every member of the company will probably be placed on view to the public.

ANOTHER ALARM.

About a quarter past 1 o'clock this afternoon a fire alarm was sounded, bringing the whole town out again in terror of another scorching. The fire was in a dwelling house on the south side of the Government yard, near the Survey Building. It was occupied by Mr. Kamiki, janitor of the Government building, and was afire in a bedroom on the south side. The two young children were playing in the room, when their mother heard them calling out, "There's fire in the room." Flames were found in possession of a corner, from the top of a bureau upward, and had reached to the ceiling. Mr. Hart, Road Supervisor, and Mr. J. S. Collins, keeper of the Government stables, put out all the visible fire with buckets, after which a garden hose was turned on. Meantime Pacific Hose Co. and Engine Co. No. 1 were hastening to the spot, reaching there in the order given, but the former not having its hydrant hose allowed the other to get first water on the building. There being a faint symptom of smoke coming through the roof, a hole was cut in it and the attic thoroughly drenched. Matches strewed about the floor of the room left little doubt that the children playing with them had caused the fire. British marines from the Heroine and Satellite were numerous mingled with the crowd, doubtless ready for any service. One of them remarked to our reporter, "This is a pretty lively town." All the furniture was taken out of the house by the crowd. Chief Engineer Nott was promptly on hand to direct operations. There was a good deal of animadversion passed upon the Minister of Interior by spectators, because he was not on hand with a hatchet to cut the hole in the roof, or to authorize blowing up the Survey building and Aliiolani Hale, if necessary, to save the town!

THE LATE MRS. KAPENA'S FUNERAL.

A large concourse assembled at St. Andrew's Cathedral yesterday afternoon to pay the last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased wife of His Excellency J. M. Kapena. Among those present were His Majesty the King, the Vice-Chamberlain, the Princesses Liliuokalani and Likelike, the Governor of Oahu, the Chancellor, Justice McCully, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, the Minister of the Interior, Hon. F. H. Hayselden, and other Government officials. The pall-bearers were the Honorable J. L. Kaulukou, C. P. Iaukea, J. Kane, J. Keau, E. K. Liliokalani, Majors Baker and Rosa, Adjutant Baker, and Lieutenant Maikai, with a guard of honor consisting of a detachment of the Royal Household troops. On the arrival of the hearse bearing the remains, within the Cathedral gate, the Royal Hawaiian Band, stationed in front of the church played the "Kupenehameha Funeral March." The coffin was borne into the church by the troops, and met at the door by the Bishop of Honolulu and Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, the band playing the "Dead March in Saul." The services were conducted in Hawaiian by the Bishop of Honolulu assisted by the Rev. Alex. Mackintosh. On leaving the church, the "Dead March in Saul" was played on the organ; and the remains were preceded and followed to the Kawaiahaeo church cemetery in the following order: Undertaker, Royal Hawaiian Band, Bishop and clergy, the hearse with pall-bearers and guard of honor, the carriage with chief mourners His Excellency J. M. Kapena and Miss Leihulu Kapena, and private carriages to the number of fifty-five. Leaving the Cathedral grounds, the Band played "Queen Emma's Funeral March." "The Sweet by and bye," and continued playing appropriate pieces until the cemetery was reached. The burial service was then read by the Bishop, and the remains lowered into the vault. The coffin had been covered with a profusion of beautiful flowers by the friends of the deceased. The Government flag on the Aliiolani Hale grounds, as also the flags of the British warships in port were at half-mast during the day, while the Government offices, out of respect to the deceased lady, were closed at noon.
