

ISLAND LOCALS.

ABOUT TOWN. See the registrar's notice in official column. Letter from Camp Liliuokalani is deferred. Lusty trades blew and much dust flew Wednesday. Four names were on the police record Friday night. Mr. A. M. Hewett is now keeping his store open at night. A Chinaman with two names was arrested Friday for forgery. The Cham Lung opium license will expire on the 10th of April. A skull has been found in the kerosene warehouse extension excavation. The credit system will be unpopular till the deluge of quarterly bills be past. S. S. Gaelic is announced to sail hence for San Francisco on the 4th prox. What promised to be an equinoctial gale began piping up early Tuesday night. Three lepers from Kau, Hawaii, were put in the branch hospital on Friday. Either the air was unusually cool Tuesday evening or the thermometer is not thermometric. See notice of postponement of mortgage sale by Mr. Morgan, from March 31st to April 7th. The Beaver lunch room looked esthetic on Tuesday with a beautiful bouquet on the counter. Mr. A. J. Cartwright has been appointed a Trustee of the King's estate instead of Mr. J. O. Carter, resigned. A riding party of eight or ten young ladies and gentlemen swept gaily up the Palama road on Friday afternoon. A lease of land at Palwa, this city, will be sold by Mr. Levey, under a decree of the Supreme Court, on April 13th. A meeting of the Privy Council was held Thursday at Alioli Hale, but no business of importance was transacted. Rev. J. M. Alexander, formerly of these Islands, has been admitted a member of the San Francisco Presbytery. The GAZETTE is indebted to Mr. S. C. Allen and Mr. A. M. Hewett for San Francisco papers per bark Lady Lamson. A benefit for the China Engine Co. was given at the Chinese theater recently and realized the handsome sum of $400 net. Unless sooner disposed of at private sale, the Hawaiian steamer Kaimilola will be sold at public auction on Tuesday, May 1st. The Adams had a squad of eighteen men and two officers engaged in rifle practice March 26, at the shore battery, Kakaako. John Hamauka, a captain in the King's Guards, died Tuesday, after a long illness, aged between thirty and thirty-five years. Antone Pettini withdrew his appeal, paid his fine of $400 for smuggling opium, and reshipped as cook on the bark Forest Queen. The Hawaiian Bell Telephone Company has just got out a new lot of cards for April. The list of subscribers runs up to number 445. Ernest Wodehouse has gone into the Money Order Department, and is succeeded by J. G. Rothwell as delivery clerk in the Postoffice. There were large congregations at the Easter services in the various churches. The music in every case was of a very fine order. The small-pox patient at the quarantine station from the whaling vessel Hunter is reported making favorable progress toward recovery. Capt. Hubbard of the barkentine S. N. Castle has our thanks for San Francisco papers of March 10th and 11th, two days later than the last steamer mail. Captain Marston, formerly master of the bark Lady Lamson, has gone to Scotland to superintend the building of a new bark for the Hawaiian trade. The Board of Education, already an efficient body composed of influential citizens, has had an accession to its membership in the person of Mr. W. W. Hall. Engine Company No. 2 had drill Wednesday night at Fort and Queen streets' crossing. There was a good attendance and some excellent work was put in. Love's Bakery sent a bountiful spread of hot cross buns Friday morning to the inmates of the Insane Asylum. The treat was much relished by the recipients. The electric light throws shadows looking thick enough to trip one up. When a tree waves in the focus it produces an appearance of carpets rolling on the ground. Mr. A. M. Hewett, with characteristic energy, had files of San Francisco papers on his counter from the bark Lady Lamson before the vessel came into the harbor. The J. A. Cummins seems to be a busy vessel. Arrived Saturday evening from Waimanalo; left same evening for Waialua; returned Sunday and sailed again yesterday. The Supreme Court will sit in Banco on Tuesday and Saturday of the first week. Divorce cases will be heard on Saturdays of the second and following weeks. The funeral of the late John Hamauka, captain in the King's Guards, was largely attended. The hearse was preceded and followed by a long procession of mourners. The cortege started headed by the Royal Hawaiian Band, from the Kaunakapili church, and proceeded through Nuuanu and King streets to the Kawaiahaeo cemetery. The procession extended from the Government building to Fort on Saturday. The event was signalized by a luau in the afternoon and a concert at night. A large crowd attended. Mr. Albert Herzog, an American, is being enquired for by his friends. Information of his whereabouts is requested to be communicated to U. S. Consul-General J. H. Putnam. An adult bull at the end of a long line, the other end held by a native cowboy on horseback, had the right of way, without dispute by pedestrians, on Fort street Wednesday evening at closing time. The C. R. Bishop, under command of Mr. Lawrence, late mate of the Jas. Makoe, left on Monday week for Kuan, to load sugar. Capt. W. Bates, having recovered from his late illness, went to act as pilot. The stone breaker, one piece of which must be some five tons weight, has been brought down by one of Hebbard's drays drawn by a span of massive bays to the Kinohiwa wharf whence it is to be shipped to Hilo. The concert at the Hotel Thursday night came off in frigate style. The grounds were lighted with incandescent electric lights, and Berger and his "boys" electrified the spectators on the veranda and premises. The New York sugar market, March 10th, was dull and nominal; refined quiet and unchanged. San Francisco, same date, both refineries quoted various grades of refined sugar at from 5 1/2c. to 7 1/2c.—cube, crushed, powdered, etc., being 6 1/2c. Sam —, the superintendent of the pile-driving operations at the new wharf at Waimanalo, got his fingers crushed in the leading block of the pile-driver on Saturday. The accident is likely to lessen the number of digits on his hand. Hollister & Co. have lately added to their extensive plant some of the latest improved soda water machinery. The product from their factory is now unexcelled by any in the world, although patrons have never hitherto met with its superior. The Volcano is said to be weekly improving in activity. There was a magnificent outburst viewed from the Volcano House while one of the Vandalla parties was there. It looked like a rocket as big as a house thrown up and exploded. Mr. Kepahoni has moved his house at Palama to the front and east corner of his large lot. The distance from the original to the new site is several rods each way, but the work was done without disturbing the domestic economy of the family. Mr. Fishel wishes us to say that owing to his great rush of customers during his special cheap sale, and wishing to give everybody a chance to buy himself rich, his store will be kept open on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday till 9 p. m. Mr. Paty and some friends caught one of the fish called the "ono" off the steamer John A. Cummins, near Waima, this island. The specimen measured five feet long and twenty-eight inches in girth, and its flesh is described as very palatable. Pacific Lodge, Rebecca Degree, I. O. O. F., held its first regular meeting, since organization, on Friday evening. There was a good attendance. Several propositions of ladies for membership were made, and everything was auspicious for a successful career. Officers of the Woodlawn Dairy and Stock Company were elected at the annual meeting as follows: B. F. Dillingham, President; T. W. Hobron, Vice-President; W. O. Smith, Secretary; A. L. Smith, Treasurer; W. F. Allen, Auditor—all of whom compose the directorate. Dr. Gray is shortly to leave the Kingdom, and Mr. Morgan will sell his belongings, advertised elsewhere, on Thursday next. The doctor and his amiable partner will be greatly missed by his clientele and a wide circle of friends attached to them during their few years' residence. The Inspector-General of Schools, accompanied by Mr. W. Jas. Smith, Secretary of the Board of Education, has been making an inspection tour among the schools at Waikiki, Kaneohe and other places on this island. The Inspector-General has been at the Royal School the last two days. The contract for matting the Legislative Chamber and Government offices was awarded to Ahi & Co. The bids were, Ahi & Co. material weighing over 80 lbs., $14 per roll, laid; Wing Wo Chan & Co., 90 lbs., $14 25; Lewers & Cooke, 85 to 94 lbs., $14 30 and for 65 to 70 lbs., $12 30. The fire in the premises of the Hon. Jona. Austin, on Thursday night, burnt nothing. It consisted of the emission of sparks from the electric wires, caused by the boughs of an oleander tree that had ambitiously risen above the wires and played with them, reckless of the terrible power emanating from the machine up the Nuuanu valley. A native boy came down from Kona a few days ago to stay with some folks in this city. He got out on the street, lost his way and was picked up by the police and brought to the Station. The lady of the house to which he belonged found him at his new quarters and rescued him. Kona boys must not mistake the metropolitan city of the Kingdom for a cattle ranch. Deputy Marshal Hopkins has ordered the captains of police to instruct the men in their watches to look out for Chinese throwing loops into the streets and to have them arrested on the spot. The officers are in the same manner instructed that no L. O. U.'s will be accepted as bail, nor will any officer be allowed to stand bail for any person charged with any offense. The funeral of the late John Hamauka, captain in the King's Guards, was largely attended. The hearse was preceded and followed by a long procession of mourners. The cortege started headed by the Royal Hawaiian Band, from the Kaunakapili church, and proceeded through Nuuanu and King streets to the Kawaiahaeo cemetery. The procession extended from the Government building to Fort street. A body of the King's Guards was present and the remains were interred with military honors. Very rough and stormy weather is reported for the Hamakua and Hilo coasts. The Lehua was wrecked at Huelo waiting for a lull in the storm, to allow her loading sugar, and was there when the Likelike passed on her homeward trip. Sugar had accumulated at Huelo so that the mill was obliged to stop grinding until some of the stock could be got away. The Advertiser has given publicity to a prospective breach of promise suit, in which the defendant is described as "a frisky young reporter—a haole"—not very prepossessing—light complexion and still in short clothes." All the Honolulu reporters being remarkable for extremely good looks as well as winning ways, the unfortunate victim in the above case must be some "hungry man from Frisco." A runaway Tuesday of a carriage and pair of gray horses belonging to James Carty, occurred on Merchant street. The team brought up at Goldberg's show window and had very nearly got inside among the dry goods. Damages consisted mostly of some broken straws. The skillful handling of the fractious team by the driver prevented a big smash-up from occurring about that time. Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth and a police officer brought an ill-mated pair of prisoners to town Sunday morning from Makawao, by the Like-like. "Defendants" consisted of a Chinaman and a Portuguese, handcuffed together by one shackle, and, on reaching the wharf, the pair were smart enough to make good their escape, and covered the trail so well that nothing further could be seen or heard of them up to 10:30 last night. Mr. Dick Davis' thoroughbred trotting stallion "Marin" arrived with its owner by the barkentine S. G. Wilder. Contrary to the usual practice, a box stall was provided for the animal, in which it could lie down with comfort. The result justified the experiment, the horse reaching port in good condition. It is a fine specimen of equine development and was universally admired by many who went to see it come ashore. For the present the horse is quartered at the Pantheon Stables. Police Justice Dayton was entitled Thursday to a pair of white gloves, which most likely he did not get, there being no appropriation for the purpose. No criminal cases were before the Court—a very rare occurrence. One civil case was disposed of, namely, C. Afong vs. Kawai, in which defendant was charged with deserting contract service, and on the certification of Dr. C. B. Wood that he had examined Kawai and found no reason why he should not return to work, he was ordered back to service and to pay $3 10 costs. More Cruelty to Animals. A colored man from Kapiolani Park neighborhood was plying his vocation as a professional breaker of horses last evening by driving a wretched-looking little nag in a light baggage express wagon across the Esplanade. The breaking process consisted in wild jerking of the reins and vigorously wielding the whip. The lesson also included throwing the horse prostrate, partly under and partly over the shafts, and handsomely capsizeing the vehicle, box down and wheels up. A GAZETTE reporter happening there at the moment came to view the rectification arrangement at close quarters. Next a couple of Vandalla seamen arrived on the scene. A passing citizen then joined the party. A cab with a stout native driver hauled up alongside. Lastly came a colored hackman. While the above-mentioned select body of spectators were contemplating the "horse-breaking," and assisting in getting the equipage again into running order, the teamster commenced a fresh assault on the prostrate brute, but was checked by a timely warning that the Police Station and a round penalty for cruelty to animals were among the contingencies of the occasion. As they helped raise the animal off the ground, the assisting party discovered a belt of red flesh on the horse's breast, under the shoulder strap, upon which the driver was informed of the Ah Hee case and given to understand that he was in the direct line of business for a similar distinction. That horse was driven off the Esplanade in a more civilized fashion than that in which he came on it, while the driver got a box in his bonnet to buzz in his noddle one of the first axioms into scientific horse-training—that abuse of an animal is not training. The Vandalla at Hilo. An officer of the U. S. F. S. Vandalla writes us the following note: The officers of the Vandalla appreciate the kind manner in which your correspondent has referred to their visit to Hilo, and inasmuch as he has referred to one of the men's having walked from the Volcano House, they think it might be of interest to your readers to know that eleven marines in charge of Lieutenant Elliott, and thirty-eight blue-jackets (the latter without an officer) walked up to the Volcano House and back, taking with them their rations and camping out on the road. They all returned on time and in good condition and enjoyed the trip very much. In all forty-nine men and sixteen officers visited the Volcano, and all felt well repaid for the fatigue experienced. Mr. Maby, the manager of the Volcano House, did his utmost to make everybody comfortable and deserves credit for his success. The man Perkins referred to in your correspondent's letter was accompanied in his walk by a blue-jacket named Fooye. But your correspondent is in error concerning the wager, as no wager was pending on the walk. Barber's Point Light. The Barber's Point Lighthouse, the contract for which was awarded to Mr. Peter High about the first of February, has been completed. Light shone forth from its lantern for the first time on Thursday night last. Everything was satisfactory, and some of the mechanics returned to town on Friday. A light-keeper's dwelling was in the contract and is also completed. The lighthouse tower is forty-four feet high.

KOK YUK DEAD. Coroner's Jury Empaneled—An Arrest on Suspicion. Kok Yuk, the Chinaman found desperately wounded in his domicile on Sunday, died at the Queen's Hospital about 5 p. m. on Monday week. Deputy Marshal Hopkins as Coroner held the following jury empaneled to hold an inquest: C. Monting, C. T. Akana, Y. Anin, E. H. F. Wolters, M. Davis and P. O'Sullivan. After viewing the body the jury were dismissed, subject to the call of the Coroner. Several Chinese were seen that evening hastening, in company with a policeman who consulted a sheet of foolscap as he walked in the direction of Kawaiahaeo. Shortly before 10 o'clock a Portuguese who lives near the murdered man's shop was brought to the Station under arrest. Suspicion had fastened on him from the discovery that a pair of well-worn and patched working trousers on his person were stained in several places as with blood. Mr. A. P. Peterson, Deputy Attorney-General, called in Mr. George W. Smith, chemist, to make an analytical examination of the stains. The account given by the owner of the garment was that the stains had been made by drops of a medicinal tincture he was using. Mr. Smith analyzed the stains on the pants and found no signs of blood. The man was let go after a few minutes' detention. He said he would appear whenever called, as he had done nothing wrong. Deputy Marshal Hopkins called the jury Thursday, to enquire into the causes of death of the Chinaman, Kok Yuk. The examination commenced at 1 o'clock p. m. and was continued until 6 o'clock p. m. when the jury adjourned to 9:30 p. m. The hearing at the inquest brought out a most inexplicable mesh of conflicting statements, especially among the Chinese who had had business relations with the deceased. Witnesses contradicted one another point blank in reciting circumstances and occurrences about which it is impossible to conceive how their observations or recollections could be at fault. There was much lying, but for what specific object is a mystery. At 12:30 a. m., Friday, the jury returned the following verdict: That Kok Yuk came to his death from wounds caused by some blunt instrument, presumably an ax, at the hands of some person or persons to us unknown. Mails Destroyed. The mails that left San Francisco on Feb. 21st for New York were destroyed in a collision at Colton, Nebraska. Many letters to banks and bankers, mailed on that day and containing remittances in cheques, drafts and coupons, have been reported as missing. The registered mails were despatched by another train and reached New York in safety. As the Hawaiian mails per steamer Australia were due in San Francisco on the date above mentioned, unless the steamer failed to catch the train they will be among the mails destroyed. A Comet Visible. A letter received from Kauai, states that a comet is distinctly visible to the naked eye in the eastern skies about 4 o'clock in the morning. The heavenly vagrant has a goodly nucleus and a pronounced tail. If this is an original discovery there is a prize forthcoming for it from the Warner Observatory, Rochester, New York.
