DEMANDS ABRIGATION OF CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY
SENATOR MORGAN SOUNDS NOTE OF WARNING TO BRITISH MINISTRY.
He Declares That Its Object is Delay So As To Prolong The Benefits That Are Reaped From The Suez Canal.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Again today Vice President Roosevelt was the central figure of the opening proceedings of the Senate. When he appeared at his desk to call the Senate to order a wave of applause swept over the thronged galleries. He evidently was impatient at the demonstration and sharply tapping his desk with the gavel, warned the spectators that a repetition of the applause would result in an order to clear the galleries.
Morgan of Alabama, who yesterday offered a resolution declaring the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty between the United States and Great Britain, addressed the Senate for nearly two hours upon his proposition. His admonitions to Great Britain were particularly sharp. He declared that if Great Britain should endeavor to enforce the terms of the treaty, the effort would result in a war in which the great empire, which had controlled for scores of years the commerce of the world, would be swept from power and her King would be left with sovereignty only over his own island.
He challenged any Senator to point to a single proposition which Great Britain had made for such a modification of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty as would admit of the construction of the Nicaragua canal. No such action, he said, had ever been taken by Great Britain. During all the time when Americans were "hugging to their bosoms" the delusion that Great Britain eventually would enter upon a friendly arrangement for the construction of the canal Great Britain had maintained "a profound and golden silence. He called her silence "golden" because, he asserted, Great Britain, through Liverpool, which was the commercial center of the world, was being enriched, and the United States, because of the lack of the Nicaragua canal, was contributing to the enriching of Great Britain.

Morgan said he did not boast of the power of the United States in money, men or valor, but he was thoroughly conscious of them and gloried in that consciousness, because he knew when the supreme moment should come and any power in the world should undertake to bridle these United States by placing such restraints upon her sovereignty as were contained in the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, the American people would resist to the bitter end. "And that resistance," he exclaimed, "vehemently, "will mean the wiping out of any power on earth that undertakes the job."
He regarded the Clayton-Bulwer treaty in the nature of an alliance, "a shameful alliance," with Great Britain, and renewed any suggestion of the inability of the United States to sever such an alliance without incurring the penalties of a war. He maintained that in spite of the silence of Great Britain the United States could abrogate the treaty at any time, and until it was abrogated it would act as a clog upon the extension of the commerce of this country.
LONDON, March 7.—The afternoon papers here today made little comment on the statements of Senator Morgan of Alabama yesterday in the United States Senate, in his plea for the Nicaragua canal, following his resolution declaring the Clayton-Bulwer treaty abrogated. The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Mr. Morgan cannot help making his friends and relatives exclusively uncomfortable."
The Westminster Gazette says: "Mr. Morgan is having a great time. His warnings are all very alarming, but we are reassured by the knowledge that the route of the canal is not definitely determined."
