Condemn the Shacks.

The following letter was forwarded to the Board of Health yesterday:

HONOLULU, February 1, 1900.

C. B. WOOD, M. D., President of the Board of Health.

Dear Sir:—We, the undersigned residents and property holders on Emma street, and adjacent neighborhood, do petition the Board of Health to condemn, and cause to be removed, the shacks on the Ewa corner of Beretania and Emma streets, and the two (2) wooden two (2) story buildings situated on the corner of Emma street and Emma Place, occupied as a Chinese laundry and Chinese store.

The said buildings have a large and mixed class of roomers or dwellers, and are in a highly insanitary condition, and are a menace to the health of the community.

We further believe that there has been no odorless excavator used on the premises for nearly two (2) years. Our inspectors have reported as to their insanitary condition, and we cannot understand why the Board of Health has not taken action ere this. We cannot see how the said buildings can be placed in a sanitary condition.

We think they should be condemned and burned; cesspool pumped out.

We all pray for immediate action. Jno. S. McGraw, M. E. Grossman, Iga Mori, L. F. Alvarez, J. H. Raymond, F. L. Miner, F. R. Day, Mrs. L. T. Winn, Club House; J. W. Luning, J. A. Mehrten, C. B. Cooper, C. B. High, J. F. Morgan; R. E. Lockwood, sub-inspector of above district.

Anti-Plague Precautions.

In view of the existence of the bubonic plague in Honolulu and Asiatic ports the supervising surgeon general of the Marine Hospital Service of the United States has issued a circular letter to Collectors of the Port making them acquainted with the additional quarantine regulations adopted by the service. The new rules are very stringent with regard to the inspection, detention and fumigation of baggage and cargo of vessels arriving from a suspected or infected port.

For instance, passengers shall not be vaccinated at or en route from ports or places infected with plague, such vaccination being held to increase the liability of plague infection, and by inducing fever and swollen glands tends to confuse the diagnosis at the port of arrival. This operation must be performed at the port of arrival and just prior to release from quarantine.

Mammalian animals, such as dogs, cats, monkeys, mice, etc, shall not be shipped from a plague-infected or suspected port or place.

The new rules were put into effect at this port yesterday.

If you don't remember the Maine call at L. B. Kerr's and see her.
